

Dr Abdul Rahim Wong is a Consultant Paediatric Cardiologist in Universiti Sultan Zainal Abidin and visiting consultant at the Hospital Raja Perempuan Zainab II. He received his Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery. B.M.B.S Flinders University of South Australia, 1993, Member of the Royal College of Physicians. M.R.C.P. (Paediatrics –London, U.K.) 1997 and Fellow in Cardiology (Children’s Hospital at Westmead, Sydney, Australia) 2001. He started his career in the Illawarra Area Health Service Wollongong, New South Wales as Houseman/Intern in 1993. Upon returning to Malaysia in 1994, he practiced in Hospital Universiti Sains Malaysia until 1999 where he was appointed specialist in Neonatology. He then started his career in education as a lecturer in Paediatrics, School of Medical Sciences Kubang Kerian Kelantan, Group supervisor for Community and Family Clinical services (CFCS) in Kelantan (USM) and fellow in Paediatric Cardiology at Children’s Hospital at Westmead, Sydney, Australia, teaching of students, handling all referrals made to unit, handling of all clinical cases. He is a member of various professional bodies and involved in both local and international publications and talks.